

Residential and Commercial Security Systems Company Total Security Awarded an A+ Rating from the Better Business Bureau

New York-based Total Security gains momentum as it receives a prestigious A+ rating from the Better Business Bureau in September. CEO says its unparalleled commitment to customer service combined with its affordable security camera systems, access control systems, burglar alarms, and intercoms has propelled the company's success for over 10 years.

Elmont, New York (PRWEB) September 29, 2014 -- Steve Jobs once quoted: "Innovation distinguishes between a leader and a follower." This way of thinking should be adapted by every company - regardless of size, and regardless of the industry. One company that follows this path is Total Security Integrated Systems, a full-service security camera systems installation company in New York. The company was awarded an A+ Rating by the Better Business Bureau this September.

"Although we have built a strong reputation as installers of innovative security systems for the commercial and residential markets, we have distinguished ourselves by providing exceptional customer service and very affordable prices," says Total Security CEO, Matthew DiMicco. "As a company that provides both the products and the installation, customers save money and are able to get the 'Total Solution' from one business partner. They recognize the value all around."

In 2013, Total Security was awarded an outstanding "A" Rating by the BBB. One year later, the BBB carefully reviewed their company file and decided to increase their rating to the highest possible rating issued by the organization.

"It took a lot of hard work and dedication to obtain an A+ Rating. More importantly, the Total Security team strives every day to provide our loyal customers with what they want - a quality, affordable service that delivers extraordinary customer service. How happy our customers are is the true measure of our success."

Matthew DiMicco and the Total Security family is looking forward to serving its growing commercial and residential customer base in New York well into the future. To find out more information about the company, visit their website at: totalsecurityny.com or call (516) 775-2304.
